What is Advocacy?

Definition: Support for or recommendation of a particular cause or policy.

Origin: Medieval Latin: to summon or call to one’s aid
Preservation vs. Conservation

Conservation
- Physical treatment
- Strengthen
- Repair
- Stabilize

Preservation
- Collections care
- Stabilize
- Maintain
- Slow deterioration
Understanding Different Types of Value

- Intellectual (content)
  - Evidentiary
  - Informational
- Intrinsic
- Administrative
- Aesthetic
- Legal
- Historic (age)
- Rarity
- Commemorative
- Monetary
Internal Advocacy
For what are we advocating?

- Funds
- Time
- People
- Support, authority
Why do we have to make the case?

It’s our responsibility as collection stewards!
Why do WE have to make the case?

- Perhaps not as “sexy” or exciting as other institutional functions like exhibitions
- Often behind the scenes
- Impacts are longer-term – there may be more immediate fires to put out
- Donor considerations
Mission Statement:

- Collect
- Preserve
- Disseminate

“Chester County Historical Society is a not-for-profit educational institution whose mission is to promote an understanding of the history of Chester County and southeastern Pennsylvania by collecting, preserving, exhibiting and interpreting that history and its relationship to the region, and nation beyond, to audiences of all ages and interests.”

“Since 1905, West Virginia Archives and History has been charged with the responsibility of collecting and preserving West Virginia's public records and historical materials and making these materials available to the public.”

“The DePaul University Art Museum extends the institution’s commitments to excellence, diversity and social concerns through innovative exhibitions, programs, and events that analyze the variety and depth of artistic expression. The Museum acquires, preserves and displays the University’s diverse and growing collection of works of art.”
Institutional Strategic Plan

• To “adopt proactive preventive conservation as a standard practice.”
  ➢ “Develop and implement collections policies and procedures.”
  ➢ “Develop emergency procedures and responsibilities for site, staff and visitors.”
  ➢ “Develop a preservation plan for the House.”

• To “establish short-term and long-term preservation and conservation strategies for the [site] and [collections].”
  ➢ “Strategy 1: Establish protective procedures to minimize damage to permanent installations (Q2 2012 – Q4 2013)
  ➢ “Strategy 2: Develop a conservation and preservation plan (Q2 2012 – Q2 2013)
  ➢ “Strategy 3: Protect [the] main site and [collections] (Q3 2012 – Q4 2012)”
Preservation Plan

F.A.3 Strategy: Obtain a collections survey from a photograph conservator for the Religious News Service Photographs. Embark on digitization and post-digitization housing initiatives, and subsequent disposition of originals when necessary.

Desired Outcome: 68,000 prints, negatives (the majority cellulose acetate), and caption sets, which are presently housed together in acidic envelopes, are safely transferred and rehoused.

Resources Needed: Funding from an NEH Foundations Grant, associated resources, staff time.

Stakeholder Analysis

Who is your audience?

- Are they change-makers (primary) or influencers of change-makers (secondary)?
- What is their current position, and what stakes do they hold?
- How best to reach them?
- Internal politics – understand relationships, timing
Communication Plan

“Good communication cuts through the clutter, it doesn’t add to it. It does this by getting the right message in the right medium delivered by the right messengers, to the right audience.”

Twenty Questions: A Self-Assessment Game

This questionnaire will help you describe your collections and how they serve the interests of your visitors and supporters. Add to or change the questions to suit your institution, then answer the selected questions in one or two sentences or phrases with other staff.

Try the same exercise with directors, trustees, donors, long-term members, and casual visitors. Continue to do this regularly over time until you see repeating responses.

The answers should reveal how others see what you do, how well you do it, and how it impacts them. They will provide ideas and phrases for articulating key messages before you begin advocating for your collections.

1. What do you collect?

2. What individual(s), event(s), or historical era(s) do your collections represent?

3. How do these collections fit into local, regional, national, and world contexts?

4. How do these artifacts illuminate a significant aspect of art or history?

5. What is unique or extraordinary about your collections?
6. How would you describe your site and these collections to someone who doesn’t usually visit museums, historic sites, and other collecting institutions?

7. How do these collections impact your visitors?

8. Who are your core audiences?

9. How do your collections, exhibits, and programs serve your core audiences?

10. How do you go about discovering how you are serving your audiences?

11. What do you think about or see differently after interacting with your audiences?

12. How do you engage your audiences?

13. How would you describe the physical condition of the artifacts in your collections?

14. What plans do you have for improving the environment and long-term care of the collections?

15. What exhibits or programs have you developed to highlight preservation of the collections?
16. In what ways is your organization, site, or collection distinct from others in your area?

__________________________________________________________________________

17. Do you collaborate or partner with institutions that complement yours?

__________________________________________________________________________

18. What initiatives, coalitions, or partnerships have you joined or do you plan to join?

__________________________________________________________________________

19. If you could carry out your complete vision, what would your institution, collections, and visitors look like in a decade or two?

__________________________________________________________________________

20. What would be lost if your institution no longer existed?

Complete Your Economic Impact Statement

Now more than ever, legislators and funders need to know just how your museum impacts your community. You can start with a just few key pieces of data to personalize and complete our basic template. Then get creative – you can put the data on your museum or organization’s letterhead, add photos of visitors enjoying the museum, or add additional data that helps make the case about the value of your museum in your community.

Many museums and organizations have created an Economic Impact Statement for their museum or several museums they represent. See these samples.

You can also use our template letter to share your museum’s economic impact with your members of Congress, with just a few clicks.

Basic Template

ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT for
[Name of Your Institution]

My museum employs ____ (#) people in our community.

My museum spends $ ____ annual budget each year on goods and services in our community.

My museum serves ____ (#) visitors each year, including % from out of town.

My museum serves ____ (#) schoolchildren each year through school visits to museums.

Admission fee: $ ____

On a national scale, museums are economic engines:
• Museums employ more than 400,000 Americans.

• Museums directly contribute $21 billion to the U.S. economy each year. They generate billions more through indirect spending by their visitors.

• 76% of all U.S. leisure travelers participate in cultural or heritage activities. These travelers—including visitors to museums—spend 60% more on average than other leisure travelers.

• The U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis has found that arts and cultural production constitute 4.2 percent of the nation's entire economy, a $704 billion industry.

• The nonprofit arts and culture industry annually generates over $135 billion in economic activity, supports more than 4.1 million full-time jobs and returns over $22 billion in local, state and federal tax revenues.

• Museums and other cultural organizations return over five times as much in local, state, and federal tax revenue as they receive from all levels of government.

The American Alliance of Museums' mission is to champion museums and nurture excellence in partnership with our members and allies.
Complete Your Educational Impact Statement

Now more than ever, legislators and funders need to know just how your museum impacts your community. Let your legislators know that museums are critical partners in education. You can start with a just few key pieces of information to personalize and complete our basic template. Then get creative – add your museum or organization’s letterhead, add photos of students participating in programs at the museum, or add additional data that helps make the case about the educational mission of your museum.

EDUCATIONAL IMPACT STATEMENT

for name of institution

Amount spent by museum on educational programming: $_______

Number of schools participating in class trips: _______

Number of visits by schoolchildren each year: _______

School Districts Served: _______

List of schools participating in class trips: _______

Curriculum topics taught in cooperation with local school system: _______

Admission fee, if any: $_______

Number of educators that participated in teacher training programs: _______

In your own words: [Do you have letters from visitors that capture the educational value of your museums (from schoolchildren, teachers, veterans, families with special-needs children, seniors, or] from someone who pursued an education or a professional career after being inspired at your museum)?

On a national scale, museums are essential partners in education:

• Museums spend more than $2.2 billion a year on education, 3/4 of which is typically spent on K-12 students.

• Museums receive approximately 55 million visits each year from students in school groups.

• A randomized study of students chosen for a half-day museum field trip found that they scored higher than peers in measures of critical thinking, historical empathy, and tolerance. For students from rural or high-poverty regions, the increase was even more significant (Education Next, The Educational Value of Field Trips, 2014).

• Museums tailor educational programs in math, science, art, literacy, language arts, history, civics and government, economics and financial literacy, geography, and social studies, often in coordination with state and local curriculum standards (IMLS study).

• At a time when elected leaders are trying to advance scientific literacy and compete globally in all sectors, museums are sparking the next generation of scientists, artists, political leaders, historians, and entrepreneurs.

• Teachers, students, and researchers benefit from access to trustworthy information through online collections and exhibits, although most museums need more help in developing their digital collections to meet this need.

• Americans view museums as one of the most important resources for educating our children and as one of the most trustworthy sources of objective information. According to a study by Indiana University, museums are considered a more reliable source of historical information than books, teachers, or even personal accounts by grandparents or other relatives.

The American Alliance of Museums' mission is to champion museums and nurture excellence in partnership with our members and allies.
